What does it mean to behave well in civic life?

It is the right time to have a public forum, as was the case in generations past, where we can discuss what it means to have a good character.

Both Peter Kell and Gerard Sutton are men of our region who have enormous experience and integrity, but more significantly have thought deeply about the character attributes we want in our leaders.

Please join us as we explore this important subject.

RSVP—Monday 25 July 2011:
